PARK HYATT VIENNA TO OPEN THIS SUMMER

- First Hyatt hotel in Austria in a superb location in Vienna's historic city centre -

VIENNA, AUSTRIA, 1 January 2014 - The Austrian capital, Vienna, has welcomed a new member of the Hyatt family as Park Hyatt Vienna opened this summer on June 2, 2014. Marking the first ever Hyatt hotel in Austria, Park Hyatt Vienna reflects the intimate and understated elegance of the Park Hyatt brand while taking cues and influences from Viennese culture, making it the ideal place to stay for both business and leisure travellers.

Situated in Vienna's new pedestrian Goldenes Quartier and on the Am Hof square, Park Hyatt Vienna will occupy a 100-year-old building that formerly served as the headquarters of an Austrian Hungarian Monarchy Bank and forms part of Vienna's First District, which is listed as a World Heritage Site by UNESCO. Located in the heart of the most exclusive shopping district in Vienna, just steps away from the celebrated fashion houses and boutiques of Tuchlauben and Kohlmarkt, the hotel will be just a short walk from the city's most important sights, including St. Stephan Cathedral, the Hofburg Palace and all the historic monuments and museums that Vienna has to offer.

“We couldn't be more thrilled to bring the Park Hyatt brand to a city like Vienna, which is rich in culture, art, history and sophistication” said Monique Dekker, general manager of Park Hyatt Vienna. “The Park Hyatt brand focuses on creating rare, intimate and unforgettable experiences for guests, so we are eager to open our doors and welcome guests to discover what Park Hyatt and Vienna are all about.”
